Scottish Air-Mail Letter

Scotland Making Headway: A Scottish Victory: The Unemployment Problem: Duke And Duchess To Visit Skye: The Sabbath And No Cards: Sergeant John Ripley, V.C.

(Special Air-Mail Service)

SCOTLAND MORE CHEERFUL

Edinburgh, Aug. 30. Despite the ultra-nationalist critics and the incorrigible pessimists, Scotland is making headway even in these dark days. One of the most successful of holiday seasons is now concluding with a highly satisfactory total of tourists and revenue. The hard-hit West of Scotland can tell of a number of new factories recently opened, and the stricken Clyde has been cheered by a few gleams of brightness. These, added to the good harvest and the topic of a bright summer, constrain many to think that things are cheerier.

A SCOTTISH GOLF PREROGATIVE

Scottish boy golfers seem to beat England as inevitably as Americans win the Open Championship. Yesterday's match at Carnoustie was won and lost in the morning foursomes, success in which might well be a Scottish prerogative besides being a tradition, for the two-ball foursome is known in America as "the Scotch foursome." The performance of the home players should give them the incentive to continue the sequence of Scottish successes in the individual championship.

By this win Scotland has raised her sequence of victories to five, and over the whole series of matches now leads by eight matches to two.

JUVENILE EMPLOYMENT

The report on the prospects for juvenile employment in Scotland during the next seven years is disquieting. The principle cause for the heavy surplus of juvenile labour is, of course, the depression, but it is highly significant that the report says Glasgow even with a revival of trade will be unable to absorb the surplus. The increasing mechanisation of industry is making its contribution to the problems of the labour market.

FILLING UP THE GAPS

In 1937 Scotland may have nearly 70,000 boys and girls on its hands, half of them in the Glasgow and Edinburgh areas. What is to become of them? The report suggests that some may be transferred to areas where there is a shortage of juvenile labour, but it is feared there will be few such areas in Scotland, and it will be imagined that England is likely to have enough unemployed of its own without needing what Scotland can supply. But if the scheme of transference is at all practicable there is a great deal to be said in its favour.

A MAKESHIFT SOLUTION

The committee suggest that the best contribution to the problem will be made by raising the school-leaving age, and it is possible such a step may be forced on the country. But it will not be imagined that it is the ideal solution. There is no real substitute for the discipline and purpose that work can give young people at the formative period of their lives. But another year at school may be the best makeshift until we gain a better understanding of the whole world economic muddle with which the question of employment is inextricably mixed up.

THE LATE DR. DONALD FRASER

The widow of Dr. Donald Fraser, the missionary, has received the following telegram on behalf of the King:—

"I am commanded by the King to express to you his Majesty's profound regret at the great loss the Church of Scotland has sustained in the death of your distinguished husband and to convey to you his Majesty's deep sympathy in your sorrow.—Charles Warr, Dean of the Thistle."

ROYAL VISIT TO SKYE

The visit of the Duke and Duchess of York to Skye next month to open a boys' hostel will be a time-marking event on the island for several generations—unless the increasing popularity of the place among holiday-makers brings about a profound change in the habits of the people.

And the islanders will not be easily changed. They are scornful of time in a way that shocks the Lowlander.

Nearly all are Gaelic speakers, and some speak Gaelic only. They are closely intermarried, so that every other man is a Ross or a MacLeod, and many of them have pedigrees almost as long as that of MacLeod of MacLeod, who traces his ancestry to the Norse kings of the Isle of Man.

THE DEVIL'S BIBLE

Skye is a stronghold of the old, unbending Sabbatarianism. There are no Sunday steamers, and Sunday recreation is so condemned that one landlady told her holiday-makers very gently that she would like them to remain in the house or garden unless they were going to church.

PICK YOUR OWN "DOUBLES"

Special Feature On Saturday

Racegoers will be glad to hear that Saturday's issue of the Daily Press will contain, in addition to the special write-up and forecasts for the Ninth Extra Race Meeting, by "Morning Dew," a special feature which will enable them to obtain all possible information on the fifth and eighth races, on which the first local "Doubles" is to be conducted.

Don't miss your copy!

Cards at any time are regarded as the "Devil's Bible." An "innocent" neighbour to play bridge. The minister heard of it, and visited her next day to warn her of the undecidability of the practice. And yet only a few hundred years ago a raiding party of Macdonalds surrounded a church in which MacLeods were worshipping, guarded all the exits, and burned it to the ground (along with the congregation) while their piper played in shrill triumph!

BLACK WATCH V.C.'S DEATH

Sergeant John Ripley, V.C., late of the 1st Battalion The Black Watch, who lived at Craigs, near St. Andrews, died in hospital from injuries received through a fall while carrying out his occupation as a Slater.

Ripley gained his V.C. for conspicuous bravery at rue du Bois, on May 9, 1915, when he was the first man of the battalion to ascend the enemy's parapet and from there directed his comrades to the top in the German wire entanglements. He was stated to have been the first member of Kitchener's army to gain the V.C., and also one of its oldest recipients, being 48 years old at the time.

TO REMAIN ON GOLD STANDARD

Dutch Governments Decision

The Hague, Sept. 19. THE intention of the Netherlands Government to maintain the gold standard is re-affirmed in the Budget, the figures of which were revealed to-day.

The deficit in the coming financial year, on the present basis, would be 267,000,000 guilders.

This deficit will be met by a renewal of the temporary taxation and by an increase in duties.

New measures, which are estimated to bring in additional revenue to the extent of 106,500,000 guilders including a sales tax, a coupon tax, a crisis income tax, and increases in the duties on tobacco and coffee.

The deficit will be further decreased by economies in expenditure. Eighty-four million guilders will be saved by new salary cuts affecting Government employees and by reductions in expenditure on education, defence and public works.—Reuter.

PRODUCTION OF RUBBER

Dutch Want Fifty Per Cent. Cut

Batavia, Sept. 19. THE Dutch rubber interests, according to the local press, are advocating a fifty per cent. restriction of rubber production during 1934 and the annual fixing of the restriction percentage in future years by a Commission.

It is also stated that the Government favours the restriction of native production by the imposition of an ad valorem export duty, which would remain in force for a period of five years.

During that period of five years, fresh planting would be prohibited.—Reuter.

VEGETABLE SALAD AN IDEAL SUMMER LUNCHEON COURSE

Here is a green vegetable salad, which can be molded and set in the refrigerator the day before serving. It is an ideal dish for the main course of a bridge luncheon.

- 1 cup cut, cooked wax beans
- 1 cup finely chopped cabbage
- 1 cup grated raw carrots
- 2 pimiento peppers, cut in fancy shapes
- 2 eggs, hard cooked and sliced
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1 tablespoon plain gelatin
- 1 cup sugar (optional)
- 1 cup vinegar
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 cup cold water

Soak the gelatin in one-fourth cup of cold water for five minutes, then dissolve in one cup of boiling water. Add sugar, vinegar, lemon juice and salt and strain. Chill until quite syrupy, then add the balance of the ingredients, with the exception of the hard cooked eggs. Arrange the sliced eggs over the bottom of a mold and pour the salad mixture over them. Set aside to chill. Serve on lettuce leaves, with crab meat and rolled toasties.

This could be served with cold lamb for a Supper. It is nutritious, and with any left over cold meat is sufficient for a meal.

HINT'S FOR A HOUSEWIFE

When making starch, mix it to a thin cream and add a teaspoonful of powdered borax. Then pour on the boiling water, and stir with an ordinary candle until transparent. This will ensure easy ironing and prevent the iron from sticking.

Instead of salt, use borax when washing all kinds of greens. It will remove dirt and insects, and improve the flavour of the vegetables.

A teaspoonful of borax in a gallon of hot water makes an excellent hair wash.

Half a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda added to stewed sour fruits when nearly cooked will reduce the quantity of sugar required to sweeten them.

Add a pinch of soda to the tomato pulp before combining it with the milk for tomato sauce, and the mixture will not curdle.

A little glycerine rubbed over the surface will keep corks from sticking in the necks of bottles containing glue, cement, shoe polish, etc.

SOME INTEREST- ING FACTS

About The Selo Films

Quite naturally we all feel at some time or other the urge to take some pictures either of some canine pet or maybe at a picnic and these pictures are generally treasured. It is quite an expense, and so we like to be sure the photos taken are a success. If you use Selo Films you are always sure that they will be satisfactory. This film is the result of six British manufacturers pooling their resources, and of combining the merits of all six companies, with the result that we now have a film of superlative quality. The research of many months of experimental work. With the Selo film and an ordinary box camera, successful snapshots are possible during the summer months from six in the morning until seven in the evening. So speedy is the Selo Film that it is equivalent to a faster lens in the camera and its use makes a cheap camera capable of producing almost as good work as an expensive one. Firms who undertake developing and printing welcome Selo Films because they are so reliable, and the results are gratifying.

SOME LITTLE ECONOMIES

To lengthen the life of your silk stockings, and as a preventive against ladders, soak the stockings in a weak solution of kitchen salt and water for four hours before they are worn. Rinse in clear cold water and hang out by the toe part without wringing or squeezing at all until dry.

Our lady readers will welcome the fact that they may now purchase some very excellent silk stockings at the ladies department of Messrs Lane and Crawford. They are inexpensive and sheer. You will be delighted with the value—all shades and sizes. Drop in the next time you are in town, you will be amazed at the values.

APRICOT PIE

Cook a can of apricots in their syrup with one-third cup of sugar for two or three minutes. Then add a tablespoon of water and cook a few minutes more. Line a small pie tin with pastry, pour in this filling and cover with strips of pastry laid crosswise. Bake in a hot oven for twenty minutes.

BAKED TOMATOES AND ONIONS

THE CARE OF YOUR DOG

Just plain dog, but what a lot of meaning in those three words. Man's best friend, and in return dog asks but little: somewhere warm and dry to sleep, suitable food, an adequate supply of clean drinking water, regular exercise and a little kindness.

It may be just a plain dog or a pedigree one, but they are just as faithful, and real protectors, and it has been truthfully said that no home is complete without one.

We will endeavour to tell you each week, how to care for your pet, but the first thing we want to bring to your notice is, how to rid him of the fleas and other kinds of vermin which tend to cause eruptions of the skin.

This remedy is called "Pulver" and is absolutely safe used on your pet or on poultry. Apart from killing power "Pulver" possesses additional advantages in use on account of the fact that it is harmless both to human beings or animals. It is Non-Corrosive, Non-Irritant as well as being Protective, as it guards against reinfection for a considerable time after application. Be sure, and ask your dealer for the Cooper Product.

—PEACH MERINGUE

Cut stale sponge cake into round and slightly moisten each with the juice from a can of Maraschino cherries. Make a meringue, using three tablespoons confectioners' sugar to each egg white, and pile it thickly over the rounds, on each of which you have placed a half peach, the cavity of which has been filled with cherries. Bake in a very slow oven for about quarter-hour, till the meringue is done.

Some facts about Baby's milk that every mother should know

THE purity of the dairy milk used in Baby's diet is of vital importance—but consistent quality is important too. Dairy milk varies in composition according to the district in which it is produced and milk that varies is not good for Baby's digestion. Devonshire milk is richest in the nourishing elements that Baby needs.

That is why "Ambrosia" is such a blessing. It is Devonshire milk exclusively, purified and dried in Devonshire itself as soon as it comes from the cows, by a unique process that retains the important vitamins. The quality of "Ambrosia" never varies and it is many times purer and more digestible than any liquid milk you can buy. For these reasons "Ambrosia" is extensively used and recommended by Hospitals, Clinics and Doctors. It is the ideal Milk Food for Expectant Mothers, Nursing Mothers and Infant feeding.

CUCUMBER

The average cook rarely treats the cucumber with imagination. After slicing it thinly and serving it as a garnish to salmon, as a salad by itself, or as an addition to other salads she thinks she has done her duty by this pleasant vegetable, which is in season all the year. She does not seem to realise that it has cooking possibilities.

As a second vegetable with a roast the cucumber is excellent. After preparing and boiling it in the same way as the marrow send it to table lightly coated with some well-seasoned sauce. Turned into a purée, it is especially good with roast mutton, and for this rub the peeled, cooked, and drained cucumber through a sieve, bind it with a little thick white sauce, reheat, season, and serve piled up in a vegetable dish.

For a supper dish fried cucumber will be found interesting. Cut the peeled and seeded cucumber in to pieces about two inches square. Cook these in water until just soft but not mashed, and drain and dry thoroughly. Then dip the squares in a good frying batter and cook them in hot, deep fat till golden brown. Drain on paper, serve while still hot and crisp, and hand round separately some hot tomato sauce. If preferred the pieces of cooked cucumber can be dipped in seasoned flour, beaten egg, and breadcrumbs instead of the frying batter.

A stuffed cucumber makes a useful luncheon dish for one or two persons. Peel the cucumber, halve it lengthways and remove the seeds. Pile up in one half some forcemeat or any other suitable mixture, cover with the other half, tie together, and either steam or bake till cooked through. Remove the string carefully and serve coated with brown sauce.

A tablespoon of hot water or hot melted shortening may be added to thin it to a spreading consistency.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

If you're using marshmallows and wish to cut them up into smaller parts put some flour on your scissors or knife before cutting.

Lettuce should always be wrapped in a wet cloth to keep it crisp and kept on ice if it is to be at its best.

Mint can be dried and saved for mint sauce during the "off season" when mint is difficult to obtain.

FACTS ANY HOUSEWIFE WILL FIND USEFUL

To remove remains of egg from plates or spoons wash off in cold water as hot water hardens the remains.

Using grape juice instead of milk with a number one white meat sauce, produces a delicious meat sauce.

Here is an icing recipe which will use four egg yolks, left from the angel food cake. This icing remains creamy and can be stored in a covered jar for use when needed.

2 cups sugar.
1 cup hot water.
1 teaspoon vinegar.
1 teaspoon orange extract.
1 teaspoon baking powder (either type).
4 egg yolks beaten until lemon coloured.
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind.
1 teaspoon lemon extract.

Put the sugar, water and vinegar in a heavy saucepan, over direct heat and stir until it boils; then do not stir, but cook mixture until the syrup will spin a thread; this will require ten to twelve minutes longer. When syrup is threading add two tablespoons of shortening. Add the syrup mixture to the beaten egg yolks, pouring it on in a fine stream. Add the baking powder and the thick mixture. (Continued on previous Column).

WHAT EVERY WOMAN SHOULD KNOW

About The Luckstone Beauty Secret

"Luckstone Rubintin" is really a blessing to the ladies who are not sufficiently endowed with natural colouring matter which imparts to the cheeks and lips a perfectly natural tint. When "Rubintin" is blended with the Beauty Secret, the result is a complexion which seems to glow with the delicate flush of perfect health. "Luckstone Hand Lotion" is an excellent emollient, invaluable for keeping hands soft and white, and the woman of to-day will appreciate its sterling qualities. It is wonderful for removing the effects of sunburn from hands, neck, arms and face. It is daintily perfumed. These preparations may be obtained at the Grand Dispensary on Queen's Road, they are the sole Agents for this line, but it can also be obtained at any of the good Drug Stores in town.

HAIR BEAUTY

If your hair is inclined to become greasy a few days after it is washed, it is best not to let the hairdresser anoint it with brilliantine.

A very little, applied just before leaving the house, may be permitted if you are going somewhere special; but use it sparingly, and don't wear a tight hat.

Smear a few drops only on to the hands and press them gently into the waves. And be sure that your brilliantine does not clash with any other perfume you are using.

Dry shampoos are helpful if your hair is greasy; but again they need to be used with discretion. A mere dusting is sufficient, and it must be well brushed out afterwards with a firm brush.

Yardley's Lavender Hair Lotion is splendid for greasy hair.

MY LADY'S LOCKS

The autumn will see a definite and general change in the style of coiffure affected by fashionable women. Hair, according to the best West-End dressers, is no longer being worn short. The lengthening process is cautious and restrained, and the cue is to dress the hair at the back in a mass of tight curls. I could not get a lead as to how long the transition process from short hair to long would take, but gathered that full-length tresses were not likely to return in a hurry. Women in the mass being opposed. Hate are being made larger to meet the new trend. Incidentally, the platinum blonde having outlasted her welcome on Broadway.

Fresh Fish Roes and Bacon
1 lb. of fresh soft roes, 2 small rashers of bacon, juice of 1 lemon, cayenne. Fresh roes are best for this delicious dish. Wash the roes well. Cut off the bacon rind and lay one or two roes on each rasher. Sprinkle with lemon-juice and cayenne, roll up neatly and run a skewer through them. Broil the rolls under the electric grill, keeping them turned. They will take 5 or 6 minutes. Serve on hot buttered toast and squeeze more lemon-juice over them just before serving. If large rashers of bacon are used they can be cut in half.

Savoury Rice with Sausage
Thoroughly wash 1 cup rice. Melt 3 tablespoons butter in a double boiler, add 1 small onion finely chopped and sauté until delicately coloured, add prepared rice and stir until rice has absorbed butter, then add 2 cups hot chicken stock, season with salt and pepper. Cover and cook until rice is soft. Add more stock as needed. When rice is soft, stir in carefully 1 cup grated cheese, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons pimento (first drained, and rinsed with cold water) and cut in tiny pieces. Pile in a mound on a hot serving platter and place 10 fried sausages upright around mound. The strained sausage fat may be used instead of butter.

Cornish Toast
3 eggs; 4 rounds of toast; 6 mushrooms; 2 oz. of butter; 3 tablespoons of milk; salt and pepper. Wash, stalk and peel the mushrooms. Dry carefully and chop finely. Fry the minced mushrooms in a little butter until tender. Trim the toast into neat rounds, dip them in the pan in which the mushrooms were fried, spread each toast with the fried mushrooms, and put in the oven to heat. Melt the butter in a saucepan, beat the eggs well and mix with them the milk and necessary seasoning. When the butter is hot, pour in the egg mixture, and stir over a gentle heat until it is a soft, creamy mass. Divide this scrambled egg mixture between the toast. Serve hot.

Mashed Parsnips
6 parsnips; 1 oz. of butter; salt and pepper. Wash and peel the parsnips and cut them into quarters. Boil them till tender (about half an hour). Strain off the water and rub the parsnips through a wire sieve or else mash them with the back of a fork. Add the butter and salt and pepper, and heat the parsnips over low heat for a few minutes, stirring them carefully to prevent burning.

Mint Julep
Dissolve 4 or 5 tender sprigs of mint with sugar and water until the flavour of the mint is well extracted. Strain very carefully into a glass; add ice and 1 gill of brandy. Stir up well and strain into a Mint Julep glass prepared in advance. Dash a little rum on top and serve with straws. The Mint Julep glass is always prepared before the mixture. One can use a tumbler or a large balloon wine-glass, filled with fine shaved ice. Insert 2 or 3 sprigs of mint which have been dipped into powdered sugar before. Decorate tastefully with berries, pineapple, banana, orange, etc., according to season.

SMILE AWHILE

"What are you children playing?" asked mother one day.
"We're playing church," replied Jackie.
"How nice!" said mother, "but worshippers shouldn't whisper in church."
"We know that, mother," said Jackie, "but we're the choir!"

'ASPRO' as a GARGLE for SORE THROATS

THERE are few people throughout the world who are not acquainted with the virtues of "ASPRO" in relieving pain—stopping Colds—Flu and Rheumatic attacks at inception. Many, however, do not know how to use "ASPRO" as a gargle for Sore Throats. Two "ASPRO" Tablets in four tablespoonfuls of water make a very effective gargle, acting as a powerful antiseptic for Sore Throats because of its natural germicidal qualities. The reason why "ASPRO" has such quick action in banishing so many varied complaints is because, after ingestion in the system, it is a powerful germicide and solvent of uric acid, is an anti-Pyretic or fever destroyer and is antiseptic—anti-periodic and anti-fermentative.

5 MINUTES

FOR RELIEF WITH 'ASPRO'

There is nothing indelible about "ASPRO". Its service is QUICK—safe, effective and definite. It gives you relief in 5 to 10 minutes and then goes on to dispel or dissolve the cause of the pain, allowing Nature to effect its own cure. Furthermore, you get no harmful after-effects from "ASPRO", as it is speedily eliminated from the system a few hours after being taken. It neither dopes, deadens nor drugs.

'ASPRO' BRINGS SWEET SLEEP TO THE SLEEPLESS

There are many thousands of people who now have sweet peaceful sleep, who hitherto hardly knew the meaning of a period of restfulness. "ASPRO" has brought about the transformation by its sweet soothing influence on the nerves, and breaking up of local feverish conditions. Two tablets before retiring is the usual dose.

HOW TO GIVE 'ASPRO' TO CHILDREN

Two simple methods of giving "ASPRO" to the kiddies are (a) with a little milk, or (b) break the tablet up and administer in a teaspoonful of jam. The dosage is: Children 3 to 6 years, 1/2 tablet; 6 to 14 years, 1 tablet; 14 to 18 years, 1 1/2 tablets. "ASPRO" like any other medicine should not be given to babies under 3 years of age without medical advice.

FOR SUNDAY'S TIFFIN

A very delicious and inexpensive roast can be prepared with shoulder of lamb. A four-pound shoulder of lamb, with a pocket for stuffing, will amply serve five portions and the cost of this cut of meat is very small.

Have the butcher remove the blade and make a pocket for stuffing. Wipe the lamb shoulder with a clean, damp cloth, salt the outside of the meat as well as the pocket. Stuff with the following mixture:

1 cup cereal flakes.
2 tablespoons catsup.
1/3 cup chopped celery.

Salt and pepper to season.

Combine the above ingredients and stuff lightly into lamb pocket. Brown in Dutch oven on top of stove and then place in a 350 degree oven and bake covered for one hour and forty-five minutes. Baste during the baking time with a mixture of half hot water and half sour cream. If you prefer, the entire cooking may be done on top of the stove: if this method is used, cook covered for one hour and uncovered for the balance of the time.

ROYAL TEA WAFERS

1 cup butter
1 teaspoon Royal baking powder
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg
1 1/2 cups flour
Cream the butter and sugar, then add the well beaten egg, and flour sifted with baking powder. Drop by teaspoon on greased and floured baking sheet. Bake in moderately hot oven at about 400 degrees F.

THE HYGIENIC SANITAPE PACKING METHOD EXPLAINED.

THE 'SANITAPE' METHOD EXPLAINED.

The plant consists of the most up-to-date and efficient mechanical apparatus, including a number of "SANITAPE" machines, which seal the tablets hygienically in specially prepared wax paper compartments.

This system is known as the modern HYGIENIC "SANITAPE" method of packing, and because of its thoroughly protective properties, ensures that "ASPRO" retains its original high standard of purity. This should serve to commend "ASPRO" to all who appreciate the absolute necessity of purity in medicine.

The wonderful human-like "SANITAPE" machines are one of the most ingenious and highly developed engineering triumphs of modern times. The machines wrap the tablets with unerring regularity in waxed paper divide the paper into separate compartments, crimp each compartment so that no air can find access to the tablet, fold the tapes, and finally pass them through sprays of paraffin wax, effectively sealing the "SANITAPE" and rendering the tablets proof against damp, moisture and any form of contamination.

ELIMINATION OF HANDLING

The "SANITAPE" method of packing has a distinct advantage over the crude and obsolete system of hand packing. As no time during the process of manufacturing, compressing and packing, do "ASPRO" Tablets come in contact with the human hand, therefore, contamination from this source is entirely prevented, the tablets reaching the consumer in the same perfect hygienic state as when they left the tabletting machines.

What 'ASPRO' Does:

- 1 It Stops Violent Head-aches in 5 to 10 minutes.
- 2 It Brings Sweet Sleep to the Sleepless.
- 3 It Relieves Rheumatism in one night.
- 4 It Relieves Children's Growing Pains.
- 5 It Saves many a Sound Tooth by Removing Toothache.
- 6 It Brings Relief without causing sickness, indigestion or a craving.
- 7 It Stops Pain without harming the Heart.
- 8 It soothes away Irritability.
- 9 A hot lemon drink with 2 or 3 "ASPRO" Tablets will smash up a Cold or Flu attack in one night.
- 10 It Reduces Temperature in 5 minutes.
- 11 It can be taken at any time, in Train, at Home, at Business—anywhere—anytime.
- 12 It gives the greatest relief ever known to women at their times of periodical depression.
- 13 It Stops the Ill After-Effects of Alcohol.
- 14 It relieves Dizziness and Mal-aria by reducing the fever.
- 15 As a Gargle, "ASPRO" is wonderful for Sore Throats, Tonsillitis, etc.

TRAGEDY OF ETON COLLEGE MASTERS

Dr. Alington's Tribute to Four Very Fine Men

(Special Air-Mail Service)

London, Aug. 23.
Dr. Alington, Dean of Durham and late headmaster of Eton College, pays the following tribute to the four Eton masters who lost their lives in an Alpine expedition in Switzerland.
Three years ago Eton was plunged into gloom during the summer holidays by the tragic death on the Alps of a young master of rare promise, Vincent O'Connor. This last blow is even more cruel, and it is hardly possible to exaggerate what the loss of four such men means to the school.

"Sam" Slader

"Sam" Slader will live in Eton history as one of the best of teachers and one of the best of house masters. He was a very sound scholar, less interested perhaps in the beauties of classical literature than in its accuracy;
impatient of old-fashioned methods of teaching, and very successful in his experiments for its reform.
As a house master he worked wonders; taking over a difficult house, he transformed it in a wonderfully short time by a ruthlessness which he liked to exaggerate and by a kindness which he was at pains to conceal. No man had a greater power of winning the confidence and affection of his leading boys or worked more happily with them. To his colleagues his pose was to be critical of all Eton institutions and to regard his Etonian colleagues with suspicion, but his shrewdness and practical good sense were invaluable, and he was a most potent ally in executing any change, especially if (as was not difficult) he could be led to believe that the suggestion was his own. If to those who did not know him he presented a rough exterior, to his friends, whether boys or masters, he was a most lovable person whose foibles were far from diminishing their affection, and a headmaster, who was also his friend, had countless reasons for a gratitude that will not die.

Eric Powell

Eric Powell was a man of genius which showed itself in many fields.
The world perhaps knew him best as an oarsman; the winner of the Diamond Sculls, but there are others who think of his distinction in the Flying Corps, and yet more to whom his wonderful talent as an artist made a stronger appeal. To watch the marvellous speed with which he transferred to paper the beauty which he saw with an unerring eye was a pleasure of which one never tired, and in later years he was developing an accuracy of detail and a variety of technique which seemed to hold the highest promise. Of what he did for drawing at Eton it is impossible to speak too highly; and his success as one of the most popular and best-beloved of house masters was so remarkable that it might have been grudged to anyone but him. For his friends think of him, and always will think, as one of those rare people with whom it is impossible to be angry, even for a moment; parents who chafed under his inability to answer letters knew that all the best interests of their boys were safe in his hands, and no headmaster could ever resist the deprecating manner in which he explained that the congestion of his house-list was really no fault of his own. He would have wished for no better testimonial than that so many of his colleagues wished their sons to be in his house. His was indeed a rare combination of courage, strength, and tenderness, and it is given to few to leave behind so fair a memory.

Hugh Howson

"Hugh Howson" was for many years Sixth Form Master at Shrewsbury before he followed his headmaster to Eton. Any who are fortunate enough to possess a little book called "Two Men," which he edited in memory of two Salopian colleagues killed in the War, will realize the spirit which underlay all his schoolmastering, and the affection which he inspired in all who knew him.
He was a fine scholar of a severe taste, shown also in his liking of Scandinavian literature and for the high mountains under which he has met his death. He inherited from his father, Howson of Harrow, a high standard in all things, and his conscience sometimes seemed to his friends almost too exacting;
but if he was at times severe with other people, he was always more severe with himself, and no one ever worked harder to do his duty.
He was not altogether an easy person to know, but those who knew him, and especially perhaps those who knew him on his climbing expeditions, realized his humour and his capacity for light-hearted happiness, as well as that unselfishness which no one could mistake. Both at Shrewsbury and at Eton there are many who will feel that they have lost a friend of rare distinction of soul, of a true and genuine humility, and of an unshakable loyalty.

"Charlie" White-Thomson

"Charlie" White-Thomson had not been at Eton very long, but quite long enough to win for himself a safe position in the hearts of all who knew him. He was one of the younger men on whom any headmaster would instinctively place reliance, and had been growing rapidly in all those qualities which seem to prophesy success as a schoolmaster. That these our hopes are not to be fulfilled will be for some the bitterest pang in this tragedy, but we shall not forget the happiness which he gave and which we like to think that he shared during his two years at the school, which already had reason to honour the name he bore.

NEW JAPANESE BONDS

Banks Large Buyers Of New Issue

Tokyo, Sept. 3.—The new ¥300,- 000,000 national bonds which will be formally issued to-morrow (4th instant) are popular. There is a rush of subscriptions to the Bank of Japan by provincial banks, savings banks and security merchants. It is said that the advance application on Friday evening exceeded ¥80,000,000.
This hasty booking obviously explains the psychology of these banks and security merchants to secure the new bonds at the issue price of ¥88.50 as against ¥100 face value, as there are signs of the market quotation going up in the near future. The Bank of Japan authorities who are always endeavouring to extricate speculation and control the currency in circulation naturally view the situation with disgust. Interviewed by the Japanese press, one of the official said:
"A Speculative Purchase.
Considering the latest aspects of the money market, particularly in view of the fact that the advances by the Bank have markedly increased of late, it is inconceivable that the town banks are experiencing so great a difficulty in employing their idle capital that they are obliged to subscribe to the new national loan. We cannot but conclude, therefore, that these banks want to buy the bonds merely to gain a profit through the rise of the market quotation in the future.

"If the position is left as it is, these banks may employ the month-end and 'bon' funds which they recover in the immediate future for investment in the national bonds. The call market where the tone is unusually tight to-day will not improve in that event.
The Bank of Japan is therefore resolved to examine all applications and sell only to those who in its opinion are not objectionable."
The market appears to apprehend a change in the selling price.
But as it will take three or four months in preparing the bond certificates, the actual delivery of the bonds and consequently the fixing of the market quotation will not take place in the immediate future. The Bank of Japan cannot but sell the bonds at the issue price until that time. From the point of view, also, that the Government wishes to make the present terms and conditions the pointer for the security market, it is necessary for the Bank of Japan to sell a substantial sum at the issue price. We strongly hope, therefore, that banks and security merchants will take a more composed attitude and apply to the Bank of Japan for purchase only when the need of investment actually arises."

ENDEDCotton Clothes Became Invisible

Scientific progress took an unforeseen turn in London recently to the embarrassment of two B.B.C. research men who were experimenting with infra-red ray television.

The engineers were "looking in" at a row of dancing girls who were being televised when, to their astonishment, they noticed that only one of the girls appeared to be clothed.

The experiment finished abruptly and the girls, who were clad in cotton dancing tunics, were told that it could not go on until they dressed themselves in silk.

The explanation proved to be quite simple: The dark dyes in the cotton tunics did not reflect the infra-red rays. These penetrated the loose mesh of the fabric, so that the television projector "saw" through everything. The one girl who appeared to be clothed was wearing silk.

Infra-red television is not used for the regular B.B.C. television broadcasts. Its chief application is to enable television to be carried out in the dark by means of "invisible light."

"CAVALCADE"

The long-awaited Fox Film production of Noel Coward's "Cavalcade" make its local bow to-day at the King's Theatre.

"Cavalcade," which ran for a solid year at Drury Lane Theatre in London as a play, attracted more attention than any drama produced in England in a generation. More than a million people stormed the theatre to see it, and it is expected that the screen audience will exceed that a hundred fold.

"Cavalcade" is a story of how world events affect the home and the family. It is the story of the Marryots, well-to-do family consisting of Jane and Robert, the mother and father; their two sons, Edward and Joe; their servants, Bridges, the butler, Ellen, his wife, and Fanny, their daughter. It covers a period from 1900 to the present day, and the absorbing story is etched against a vivid background of historical happenings during that time.

Spectacular episodes add to the dramatic power of "Cavalcade," and include a number of historic events leading up to a kaleidoscopic resume of the chaotic condition of present day life.

Frank Lloyd, who directed, spent more than six months in preparation with a large technical staff before filming one scene, and every detail is authentic in every particular. He scoured the world for the most suitable players for the various roles, gathering an all-star cast which includes Diana Wynyard, Clive Brook, Beryl Mercer, Herbert Mundin, Una O'Connor, Irene Browne, Frank Lawton and Merle Tottenham.

The Misses O'Connor, Browne and Tottenham were members of the Drury Lane cast of "Cavalcade," and were brought to Hollywood to re-enact the roles they created on the stage.

THE STORY OF TEMPLE DRAKEAt The Queen's Theatre

This story of Temple Drake is supposed to be daring, and when a film of this description is shown it undoubtedly means clever acting on the part of the stars entrusted with the various roles. From the accounts it promises to be rather a fascinating picture. Temple Drake is a "good-bad" girl—a well brought up, and the daughter of a distinguished judge. Miss Miriam Hopkins is in the leading feminine role, Jack La Rue plays opposite her and William Collier Jr., James Eagles, Florence Eldridge and several others are in the cast. It is a Paramount picture directed by Stephen Roberts.

Leung Siu-wah, a married woman, residing at No. 13, Star Street, 3rd floor, was summoned before Mr. Schofield, at the Central Magistracy yesterday, for keeping an unlicensed mut tsai, and fined $50.

Gable Co-starred

Heralded as one of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's most ambitious productions of the year, "The White Sister" will open to-morrow at the Queen's Theatre with Helen Hayes and Clark Gable co-starred for the first time in their respective careers. The picture was adapted by Donald Ogden Stewart from the famous F. Marion Crawford novel and Walter Hackett dramatization, and was directed by Victor Fleming, whose most recent talkie effort was the Clark Gable-Jean Harlow success, "Red Dust."

LEWIS STONE AS FATHER.
Miss Hayes, who recently scored an outstanding portrayal in "A Farewell to Arms," plays the part of Angela Chiaromonte, daughter of an Italian prince, in "The White Sister." Gable, whose most recent film appearances were in "Strange Interlude," and "No Man of Her Own," has the role of Giovanni Severi, a lieutenant in the Italian army. The strong part of Angela's father is enacted by Lewis Stone and important roles are filled by Louise Closser Hale, May Robson, Edward Arnold and Alan Edwards.

"The White Sister," termed the most stirring and poignant love story in the history of fiction, was selected by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer as an ideal vehicle for the co-starring talents of Helen Hayes and Clark Gable. The period of the story was modernized to that of the World War with aerial bombardments and disasters of the conflict over the Italian Alps taking the place of the more luridly melodramatic volcanic eruption of the original narrative. The picture's Italian backgrounds are said to be among the most artistic ever constructed at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

THE DRAMATIC HIGHLIGHTS.

Listed as highlights of "The White Sister" are the decision of Angela to break away from the sheltered life she has been living to engage in a love affair with Giovanni, the young—Italian officer; the tragic death of Angela's father in an automobile accident while trying to stop her from meeting Giovanni; the young officer's summons to the front just as he and Angela are about to be married; Angela's tragic resignation on hearing a report of the death of her lover in action; her entrance into a convent in an attempt to forget the past; the sensational return of Giovanni from a prison camp and his frantic attempts to get Angela to break her vows; and the final spectacular air raid in which Giovanni undergoes an act of heroism in an effort to protect Angela's convent from bombardment.

HOW ELIZABETH
ALLAN BEGAN

Brilliant British Star

Miss Elizabeth Allan, the brilliant young English film star, has found Skegness so bracing that she must now be one of the world's highest-paid actresses, with the golden contract given her by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer company.

She is the daughter of a Skegness doctor and went to a Quaker school at Darlington. Fortunately, the Quaker element, at the school permitted dramatic recitations. Indeed, the broadminded headmistress advised the youthful Elizabeth, who had won an elocution prize, to go on the stage.

Her father objected, as have so many fathers of future celebrities, but she persisted, went to London, sought out Miss Lillian Baylis at the Old Vic, recited at her, and secured a position in the company against forty competitors.

FATHER GIVES IN.
There is now a double link between Hollywood and the Water-loo-road. Mr. Charles Laughton, having won fame in Hollywood, is returning to the Old Vic in the autumn to play in Shakespeare. Miss Allan, having played in Shakespeare at the Old Vic, is now a shining light in Hollywood.

Shakespeare was not Miss Allan's only early experience. She played Maria in "The School for Scandal," and shortly afterwards obtained, through Sir Ben Greet, a part on tour, for which she received her first salary—£3 a

PEOPLE

(Special All-Mail Service)

Aug. 30.
It is now estimated that over 50,000,000 people in America have seen the film version of "Cavalcade." This enthusiastic box-office verdict is making the Fox Film Company, who made the film in Hollywood, think seriously of opening a studio in Britain, and with that as an ultimate aim Mr. C. B. Cochran has been offered and has accepted the post of associate producer. One of the films which may be made at the new studios, should the plan mature, will be the Dickens classic, "A Tale of Two Cities," which was filmed in silent days.

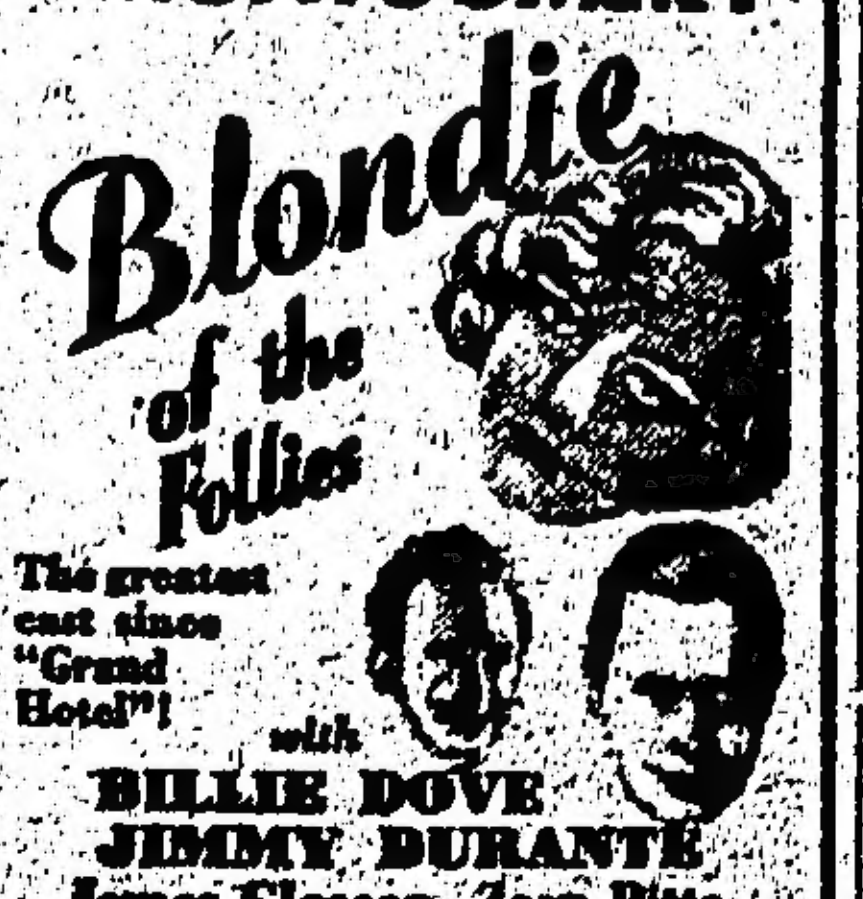

week.
Her father then recognised that grit counts for much, and gave her his blessing.

A LUCKY PHOTOGRAPH.

She obtained her first West End engagement partly by luck and partly by being resourceful. Applying for a part in "Michael and Mary" at the St. James's Theatre, she was told that there was nothing available. So she left her photograph, with name and telephone number, on the producer's table.

He telephoned.
"Michael and Mary" was made into a British film, and as such was a great success in the United States.

It helped Elizabeth to get to Hollywood.

FILMProduction In Full Swing

It is a healthy sign of the state of the British film industry that at the beginning of August production is in full swing at most of the important studios.

In "Cuckoo in the Nest," the first Gaumont British picture in which Mr. Tom Walls and Mr. Ralph Lynn have appeared together, they are supported by Miss Yvonne Arnaud, Miss Mary Brough, and Miss Grace Edwin. "Friday the Thirteenth," which is directed by Mr. Victor Saville, tells the story of a group of passengers who are wrecked in an omnibus on that ill-omened day. Miss Jessie Matthews plays a leading part, supported by Mr. Donald Calthrop, Mr. Robertson Hare, and Miss Leonora Corbett.

The company who are appearing in the film version of "The Constant Nymph" left London for Austrian Tirol on Monday. The part of Tessa is played by Miss Victoria Hopper, who has been appearing in "Martino" at the Ambassadors. Mr. Bryan Aherne plays the part of Lewis Dodd, and the other members of the company include Miss Leonora Corbett, Miss Jane Baxter, Miss Jane Cornell, Miss Mary Clare, Mr. Athole Stewart, and Mr. Toni de Lungo. Mr. Basil Dean who was responsible for the stage representation, is also producing the screen version.

MISS CICELY COURTNEIDGE.
Next month's productions include "Aunt Sally," in which Miss Cicely Courtneidge plays the part of a girl whose one ambition is to become a cabaret singer. Arrangements are also nearly complete for the production of "Jack Ahoy!" with Mr. Jack Hulbert in the leading part, which will be directed by Mr. Walter Forde.

Columbia Pictures are producing "The Lady is Willing" at Elstree, and a strong company includes Mr. Leslie Howard, Miss Binnie Barnes, Mr. Cedric Hardwicke, Sir Nigel Playfair, Mr. Nigel Bruce, Mr. W. Graham Browne, and Mr. George Zucco.

At the British and Dominion Studios at Boreham Woods Mr. Henry Edwards and Miss Chrissie White are appearing in a film based on the exploits of General John Regan. The scene is laid in Co. Down, and it is claimed that every building in the set, which covers nearly an acre, has its counterpart somewhere in Northern Ireland.

The players who are to appear in the new Danstman film "House of Dreams," left Victoria for Vienna. They include Miss Alma Taylor, Miss Jean Adrienne, Mr. Sebastian Shaw, and Mr. Alec Fraser.

SPORTSMEN'S BIRTHDAYS

Lord Hawke, the cricketer, was 73 last month Lord Woolavington, who won the Derby in 1922 and 1926, was 84.

Lord Hawke spent his birthday on holiday in North Berwick, and is now much better after his recent illness. He still takes a lively interest in contemporary cricket, although his captaincy of Yorkshire was as long ago as 1883-1910. This year Lord Hawke, who for many years president of the M.C.C., was re-elected president of Yorkshire County Cricket Club.

Lord Woolavington has confessed that one of his ambitions is to do the "hat trick" by winning the Derby for the third time.

ECHOES OF 1859

2.—Tribute to the First Printer of the "Daily Press"

January 1, 1859.

Here we are with a new face, but still too large for our clothes. We have taken to printing our own lucubrations in the same manner that our unfortunate and agitated contemporaries do, not from any grounds of dissatisfaction towards our late worthy printer, but simply from the feeling which causes even a sweep to delight in riding his own animal.

To all parties afflicted with "cacothese scribendi" whether the diagnosis be commercial, political or poetical we strongly recommend Mr. Noronha's printing office. The most patient urbanity, the greatest pains, no stint of labour or material, are the characteristics which we have invariably found to form exclusively the leading features of his establishment. The same bow which our appearance in a new form renders it necessary we should make to the public for the great support accorded us, bids farewell to our printer and coadjutor, and the least we can do is to solicit for him an increased continuance of those favours which he has long merited and enjoyed, and which, now that he is released from our troublesome selves, he will be enabled to exercise with even more dispatch and efficiency than ever.

January 15, 1859.

Our new arrangements not having shaken down into working order, our time has been entirely absorbed with issuing the Trade Report, which in fact would have seen the daylight in a very incomplete state indeed, but for the kindness of our old friend Mr. Noronha, whom we feel bound to thank publicly.

We have a perfect hat full of news, which we shall lose no time in expending. But as both the printers and ourselves were up all night, we rob Peter to pay Paul, and make use of the "resume" of intelligence given in the Trade Report.

TAKEN FROM THE "ADS."

The following advertisement appeared in the "Daily Press" of January 1, 1859:—

UNREST AGAINST N.R.A. PROGRAMME

OPPOSITION FROM BOURGEOISIE IN UNITED STATES

MORE MINERS MAY STRIKE

Washington messages disclose that the National Recovery Administration is now alive to the fact that in spite of initial advantages already gained in the "new deal" programme, there is a growing and distinct spirit of unrest and opposition throughout the United States against President Roosevelt's Movement.

This was indicated by Mr. Donald Richberg, counsel to the N.R.A., who said the bulk of this unrest sprang from those in the country who were neither big employers nor affiliated to unions, but whose antagonism threatened to engulf the whole industrial effort. Mr. Richberg admitted frankly that the Administration would combat any group making the least attempt to increase this opposition and stated the Administration had already prepared their case against any move to prove the N.R.A. illegal.

Meanwhile important steps are expected to be taken towards curbing inflation and the extension of credit to industry, this time to include a wide range of smaller business concerns as well as the combines and corporations. More miners in Pennsylvania may strike in the attempt to coerce employers into accepting the new code, while in the textile industry, the vital test of whether consumers can pay the higher code-inflated prices, is being made.

PRICES AND WAGE ADJUSTMENT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. Despite the initial advances made by industry and general business in recent months, there is a distinct spirit of unrest sweeping over the nation and the National Recovery Administration is already anxious and preparing to battle with any group attempting to increase it.

The unrest is mostly in evidence among those who are not members of labour unions and are not employers but who are alarmed at the continuing disputes between these two factions.

The Government's fear of the situation was revealed fully and frankly to-day by Mr. Donald Richberg, counsel to the National Recovery Administration, in the address to the convention of Better Business Bureaus that is in session here.

"This strife which still continues might engulf the whole industrial effort and produce a condition of chaos," said Mr. Richberg. "Workmen are demanding the right to bargain collectively and employers are doing everything in their power to limit that right in the codes submitted."

MIXED OPPOSITION

Mr. Richberg indicated plainly that some of the great leaders of industry have not come into the recovery movement willingly and he said on the other hand that all labour leaders had not been willing to accept reasonable concessions when offered.

This has resulted in a mixed opposition hard to overcome, the speaker said as he pleaded with the business men represented here to lay aside the strife for the time being and get the wheels to turning.

Some manufacturers and mercantile firms have actually experienced better business while fighting the system that produced it, Mr. Richberg said.

Although labour has given the Government anxiety as well as the employers, the latter have put a more stubborn resistance, it was revealed. Many manufacturers objected to having their output adjusted to consumption and want the privilege of unrestricted production and depend upon sales ability to solve the problem.

LEGALITY OF THE N.R.A.

The adjustment feature is the nucleus of the whole plan and without it nothing can be accomplished, the speaker said.

It was also revealed that some industrial leaders recently threatened the constitutionality of the recovery act but the Administration is fully prepared to meet this aided by Mr. Richberg and his associate, Mr. Jack Levin, specialist in public utility law.

All favourable constitutional precedents have been assembled and with a decision of the District of Columbia Supreme Court already in hand to the effect that a state of emergency exists in the United States, the legal force feels confident that objections can be silenced.

Meanwhile the Recovery Administration announced that reports from various centres were encouraging and this was confirmed by the opinion of Mr. Roger Babson, famous business economist of Wellesley Mass., whose weekly bulletin said the autumn buying movement had already begun. Mr. Babson predicted that stock prices would increase either through success of the recovery programme or as a result of the impetus given by (Continued on next column).

SWATOW NOTES

Political Situation Improves

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Swatow, Sept. 15.

Since writing my last news-letter it is gratifying to report that conditions are now considerably better. Martial law has been entirely lifted but the authorities are not betting on chances. Great vigilance continues to be exercised and policemen are always armed with either rifles or revolvers, in place of the short swords they have hitherto been carrying. No one ever knows when his car or ricksha will be stopped and searched. On the whole the situation is well in hand.

A REORGANIZATION.

The National Salvation Association (anti-Japanese boycott committee) has just been reorganized. Several of the old officials have been dismissed and new ones appointed, in view of suspected "squeezes." Some of the "inspectors" whose sole duty consists in watching and arresting people buying or handling Japanese goods, have also been given "the boots."

Recently the N.S.A. held an auction of miscellaneous "enemy" goods, the proceeds realized therefrom being over $4,000. A big proportion of this amount will be allocated to the National Aeroplane Fund.

HONG KONG ESCAPES THE TYPHOON

SUDDEN APPEARANCE AND ERRATIC BEHAVIOUR

Storms The World Over

Although extra rainfall would have been welcome Hong Kong was lucky to escape the typhoon which passed to the South of the Colony yesterday morning. According to the official report a small typhoon formed on Tuesday afternoon to the south-east of Pratas Island, and, travelling successively on N.N.W. N.W. and W. tracks passed close to the south of Hong Kong at 10.30 a.m. yesterday morning. "The disturbance was unusual in several ways," says the official report.

By a curious coincidence several parts of the world have suffered heavily during the last few days. Japan and Shanghai have experienced typhoons of most unusual intensity, and copies to hand of the Manila papers show that while the P.I. capital escaped lightly widespread damage has been caused in the North of Luzon.

Further afield North Carolina and Mexico have had similar experiences.

AN ANXIOUS MORNING

Yesterday dawned wet, overcast and unexpectedly cool. No. 1 signal, hoisted late the night before had been replaced by No. 5. Rain fell in fairly heavy showers, and the wind came in gusts, with long periods of calm. The junks were in the typhoon shelter, the wharves were empty, and the warships out at the buoys were "clear for action." The curious thing was, however, that instead of conditions worsening, the sun occasionally appeared and the showers became shorter and less frequent.

The Observatory experts, were obviously anxious and the No. 9 signal going up at about 10 a.m. was the sign for Kowloon residents to make a rush for the ferry.

RUSH FOR FERRIES

The scene at the ferry wharf, therefore, was reminiscent of our school days, when launch picnics were popular and at every one of which was a mad rush for seats.

The writer was one of the hundreds of people who made the trip across to the peninsula by one of the fully-loaded launches. In fact it was so loaded that quite a number of people, including many ladies, had to be constant with standing room.

The trip itself, was just the same as the every-day one; for the sea was calm as the proverbial mill-pond, and, apart from the fact that the ships in the harbour were all prepared for a blow, there was nothing to indicate that a typhoon was in the offing.

One old resident, a teacher in one of our leading colleges, told the writer that he "did not like the look of things, for it was in times like this, when there is scarcely any rain, that the big typhoons come."

It was quite amusing, watching the people making for the ferry wharf. The red flag had been hoisted and the pessimistic ones thought they would leave nothing to chance and were all agog about getting home before the real typhoon came!

Ladies with umbrellas, half blown out, some with their rain-coats flying in all directions and stately old men, were all brought back to their less dignified youth. Never had there been so much activity, and the Inspector on duty at the Hong Kong wharf had plenty to do, coping with the situation.

Over in Kowloon, the scene was quite unlike the busy every-day one. The buses were still running, but only a handful of people were seen in the streets.

Major C. M. Manners, the captain of the Godown Company was making a tour of inspection at the Kowloon Wharf, and it was amusing to see a coolie making fruitless attempts to hoist the red flag. Every time he went up the bamboo ladder, he found the blow too severe and had to come down again.

Inspector Lane of the Water Police Station together with Inspector Nicol and Saunders were also "looking round" near the Railway Station, but nothing happened and at 11.57 a.m. all signals were lowered.

WINDS AND RAIN.

The Empress of Russia which arrived from Manila yesterday reported that she did not encounter heavy seas although there was considerable wind and rain. She was due in port at 8 a.m. but as she was coming slowly, waiting for the typhoon to blow off, she was delayed and did not berth until about noon.

The s.s. Mantua from Singapore also escaped bad weather and when interviewed by a "Daily Press" representative, one of her passengers described the voyages as "not so bad."

THE OFFICIAL REPORT

AN UNUSUAL DISTURBANCE.

The typhoon which passed Shanghai yesterday developed on or about the 15th of September in a trough of relatively low pressure extending from Indo-China across Luzon to the Pacific. This trough had been in existence for several days and, during the passage of the typhoon northwards, it continued to exist in the Northern China Sea.

Yesterday afternoon the reports from ships indicated a week cyclonic circulation, and Pratas Island was accordingly asked to report hourly. The barometer showed any tendency to fall. Pratas commenced to send observations at 9 p.m. and before 11 p.m. it was obvious that a small disturbance was approaching. The centre passed to the eastward of the island producing a strong gale from N.N.W. to W.S.W. with a minimum reading of the barometer in 29.35 in. It contained on a N.N.W. track until 9 a.m. and successively on N.W. and W. tracks until 10.30 a.m. when it passed close to the south of the Colony.

The disturbance was unusual in several ways. Its rate of travel, 20 m.p.h., was abnormal, rainfall was very small and the highest squall about 67 miles per hour from N.N.E. at 9.55 a.m. occurred before the barometric minimum. The barometer fell 0.10 in. between 9 and 10 a.m. and rose with nearly equal rapidity between 11 a.m. and noon. After the maximum squall the wind rapidly moderated, freshening again at 12.30 p.m. to a fresh breeze from the S. and S.W.

WIDE DAMAGE IN LUZON

MANILA ESCAPES THE STORM.

Manila, September 18.—Central and Northern Luzon is hard hit by a Pacific storm raging north of the Philippines, according to reports from these typhoon-struck regions. Thousands of pesos have been lost in damage to houses and public works, and transportation and communication have been partially paralyzed.

At 9 o'clock last night the Weather Bureau reported that a severe typhoon was situated at 5 p.m. about 150 miles east of Formosa, several hundred miles north of Luzon. However, the typhoon was slowly moving away in a northerly direction.

In Bataan two persons have been killed and P.63,000 worth of property has been damaged, according to the Bulletin correspondent from Balanga, the capital of Bataan.

The Bataan rivers, swollen with the rains of many days, have burst through their confines, washing away the dikes and flooding the three towns. When the correspondent sent his report at 4.10 p.m. yesterday water was still raising in Balanga.

Rice fields have been drowned and crops damaged, according to the report. Fishponds have lost their natural boundaries in the general flood. At Orion and at Hermosa several houses have been blown down, leaving many people homeless.

Interprovincial traffic from Bataan to Zambales is difficult as a result of damage to roads and bridges. Roads to Zambales have been partly washed away. Some sections are completely under water. Wooden bridges along these roads have been greatly damaged.

Governor Sabino de Leon has inspected the damage to crops, roads, bridges, other public works, and private property in Bataan. After completing his survey he told the Bulletin correspondent that the damage is probably P.63,000.

HEAVY IN PAMPANGA.

Telegrams received by the bureau of public works show that damage in central Luzon is heavy in Pampanga. Several kilometers of road in this province ending in Mexico and Magalang have been partially gullied by the heavy runoff. Some sections are under water so that traffic is completely blocked. Kilometers 81 and 82 of the Mexico road have disappeared under three feet of water and are therefore impassable to motor traffic.

The Pampanga and Agno rivers, which threatened to burst through their dikes during the typhoon in August, are now once more menacing the towns and villages on their banks.

No definite reports have been received from the northern provinces, including Cagayan and the Ilocos. It is possible, according to Director A. D. Williams, that ferries in these provinces have been washed away or damaged by bloated streams. He said also that sections of the Manila North road in the Ilocos provinces may be under water although should this happen interrupted traffic will be resumed within forty-eight hours.

IN MANILA.

In Manila the only damage reported thus far is to telephone and fire department poles. A number of trees have been blown down, as torrential rains gullied and loosened the soil at their bases.

Several sections of Manila were permanently under water during the last two days. Last night many streets went under as a result of the heavy rainstorm of the afternoon and evening.

CUTTER LOOKS FOR VICTIMS.

The customs cutter Arayat was dispatched at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon to scour the coast of Tablas and Mindoro for the survivors and bodies of 30 persons reported to have gone down with the launch Peter in the typhoon of last Thursday. Up to late last night no word had been received by customs officials from the Arayat.

CAROLINA HIT BY HURRICANE

SEABOARD, CITIES FLOODED.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 16. Destructive tides and high winds swept the North Carolina coast to-day, inundated towns and severed communications, and caused the drowning of at least two persons, while another was listed as missing.

At the same time a hurricane from the tropics sped toward Virginia and residents of sea resorts, warned by the destruction wrought by an earlier Caribbean tempest, fled to safer ground.

The hurricane was the second in two days. The first struck the coast of Mexico yesterday, leaving many dead and homeless in the Tampico district.

Newbern, N.C., on the Neuse river near the coast, was inundated waist deep by to-day's tide and wind and the coast guard cutter Pamlico sent a radio call for relief workers and landed a party to give immediate aid. Several other Carolina coastal towns were reported flooded.

91 DEAD IN MEXICO

Mexico City, Sept. 16. The death of at least 91 persons from the hurricane which struck Tampico yesterday was reported to-day in dispatches, which said the storm spread death and destruction as far as 300 miles inland in Mexico.

Delayed dispatches from San Luis Potosi, 175 miles west of Tampico, reported that at least 80 were dead there and possibly 100 drowned in a flood resulting from the breaking of a dam in the Santiago river.

In addition more than 100 persons were reported injured, thousands homeless and property losses were believed to run into millions.

Remained from Tuesday for sentence, Hui Shing-kwan, 22, charged with importing and possession of 2,800 tablets of raw opium, was fined a total of $10,000 with the alternative of two years' hard labour, by Mr. Balfour in the Central Police Court yesterday.

TROUBLE IN THE NEUTRAL ZONEJapanese Threat To Use
"Drastic Measures"

Peiping, Sept. 17.—Threats of renewed Sino-Japanese hostilities in the north were voiced today as a result of a dispute over the administration of the neutral zone between Manchukuo and China.

The military attaché of the Japanese legation warned that "drastic measures" would be taken against China unless Chinese troops are withdrawn from the Kuyuan area.

The Japanese assert that General Sung Chen-yuan's forces there have violated the Tangku truce.

After Bandits.

General Ho Ying-ching, Chinese War Minister, said that the troops were suppressing bandits, and that their presence was justified on that score.

The Japanese attaché, Colonel Shibayama, confirmed reports that Japanese airplanes flew over Kagan, and threatened to drop bombs on the city unless the Chinese withdrew.

Ho Ying-ching planned to protest against the bomb threat.

The administration of the neutral zone has provided a problem.

Under the terms of the Tangku truce, China may not send troops into the area between the Great Wall and a defined line running across the country from a point north of Peiping to north of Tientsin.

20,000 Bandits at Large.

Japanese troops have withdrawn from this area, leaving only a small Chinese police force which is inadequate to cope with banditry, which has been growing more and more serious.

It is estimated that some 20,000 bandits are at large in the neutral area.

The Chinese say the situation is becoming intolerable. Some Chinese charge that the Japanese are willing enough to see conditions as they are, as it will give them an excuse for further military penetration into China.

The foreign office instructed the Chinese delegation at Geneva to demand that the League strictly execute the resolution of non-recognition of Manchukuo, and also declare that Japanese military activities in Jehol and North China are still threatening the safety of Peiping and Tientsin.

Japanese and Shanhaiwan.

Shanhaiwan, Sept. 17.—A delegation sent to Changchun to ask Henry Pu Yi to incorporate Shanhaiwan, strategic North China border city into Manchukuo, returned to-day, and under Japanese direction the population staged a celebration.

This was considered in Chinese circles the first step toward the incorporation of the city, which was occupied last January by the Japanese, into the new state.

Japanese airplanes have been flying over the city and nearby sections dropping leaflets urging that a wide area around Shanhaiwan also be included in the extension of the boundaries of the new state.

In advance of the return of the delegation it was widely reported Japanese officials ordered Chinese residents to hoist Manchukuo flags and otherwise to indicate approval of the proposed transfer.

Chinese postal authorities have been trying for weeks to take over the Shanhaiwan postoffice again, but have met with delay.

Pressure by Japan.

Tientsin, Sept. 17.—Yu Hsueh-chang, Governor of Hebei province asserted to-day that the Japanese military in Manchuria was bringing pressure to bear on the Chinese population of Shanhaiwan and the surrounding area, of that border city to urge annexation to Manchukuo.

Yu said the Japanese control the city, enabling them "to force the celebrations going on there the past two days aimed to present the appearance that the Chinese want annexation."

The Japanese information bureau here stated that a large area around Shanhaiwan south of the Great Wall had petitioned Henry Pu Yi, head of Manchukuo, to take over this territory.

At Charhar.

Peiping, Sept. 17. Another Sino-Japanese clash, in southeastern Charhar, was declared to-day in some Chinese quarters to be impending, but neutral opinion was the danger was slight despite the Japanese allegation that Chinese military had occupied Kuyuan near the Jehol border, thereby violating the Tangku truce.

Chinese reports were the Japanese threatened to expel the Chinese from the area unless they withdrew.

Both Chinese military headquarters and a Japanese military attaché stated the situation was easier to-night and no serious developments were anticipated.

The Chinese authorities stated their troops entered the Kuyuan area to combat bandits, had no desire to threaten Jehol and had not occupied Kuyuan, but as a result of Japanese disapproval had withdrawn to the west.

Rumours of a threatened clash resulted from Chinese reports from Kaigan, Charhar, that the Japanese military in Jehol had threatened to enter the area unless the Chinese withdrew to the west of a line established by the Tangku truce, which ended the Japanese foray into North China in May.

The Chinese authorities here stated that requests that they be permitted to send troops to other parts of the demilitarized zone to suppress bandits had been handed the Japanese but the latter rejected them saying no Chinese troops were allowed but that additional Chinese police were permissible.

LONDON TO THE FAR EAST BY AIR

Regular Air Service To Hong Kong Expected In Two Years?

London, Sept. 14. Regular air-lines linking London with Siam, Hong Kong, Manila, Shanghai and Tokyo are expected to be in operation within the next two years, says the Associated Press.

Plans are already completed for the inauguration of the much discussed England-Australia air service in March of next year. The present England-India airline which terminates at Calcutta is to be extended to Rangoon in September and before the end of the year Imperial Airways liners will be flying regularly between London and Singapore.

From Singapore to Port Darwin, the Australian terminus of the main airline, the service will be taken over by a company selected by the Australian government. As soon as this main line is established, the organization of further extensions and auxiliary services will be begun. The linking of the Australian airway with Siam, Hong Kong, Shanghai and Tokyo is already under consideration, for it is foreseen that at each of these points the ramifications of local and international airlines will serve to increase the flow of traffic on the main British trunk line. It is understood that service is being planned between Hong Kong and Manila.

EXTENSION TO AUSTRALIA. Other plans for the extension of the "Australian" service include routes to Tasmania and New Zealand. Thus, in a comparatively short time, all parts of the Orient and the Antipodes will be in direct aerial communication with London.

A satellite survey flight over the London-Sydney route was recently completed by Major H. G. Brackley, Air Superintendent of Imperial Airways, covering 23,040 miles. "Astrax," one of the fleet of eight four-engined Armstrong Whitworth monoplanes, designed specially for operation along the extra-European routes of Imperial Airways.

Accompanied by Hudson Fysh, managing director of Queensland and Northern Territories Aerial Services, Major Brackley made the return trip from Australia to England in ten days, which is very little outside the existing record for the journey.

THE PLANES.

These Armstrong Whitworth machines, which are to be used on the England-Australia service, when loaded to a total weight of 20,000 pounds reach a maximum speed of 156 miles an hour and cruise comfortably at 130 miles an hour. With any one engine stopped and with full load on board they can maintain level flight at all heights up to seven thousand feet. Accommodation may be provided for seventeen passengers.

Further improvements are being considered, however, which will give the planes a cruising speed of 135 m.p.h. with a load of 23,000 pounds a rate of climb of 1,000 feet per minute and seating accommodation for twenty passengers.

I will not wear faded shirts

When our customer is as definite as that, we know we have just the material to suit him. . . whatever the style is it must be a "ATLAS" or "TRICOLINE" fabric.

The colours are permanent. No matter what price the shirt . . . there is no difference in the dye. When we shout our customer shirts made from these fabrics we can use the word guarantee without any reservations.

There is a large selection now showing at prices ranging from $6.75 with two collars to match each shirt, or we make them to measure at no extra cost. You are invited to inspect this season's styles at the sole agents.

CHINA'S PROGRESS

The anniversary of the fall of Mukden passed without disorder or incidents. No one would seriously argue that in the big cities the whole populace is indifferent, and that there are no unruly elements always ready to follow if some agitator starts a disturbance of the peace. The fact is that both provincial and local authorities in China are gaining power, soldiers and police are more reliable, and civil order is being re-established. A remarkable feature of the Sino-Japanese conflict was the rarity of personal violence against Japanese subjects, especially in the South of China. Canton, Amoy and Swatow are hardly renowned for the placidity of their citizens. There are trade unionists and students ready enough for a fight and a row. Anti-Japanese propaganda went on vigorously for months, and the boycott was enforced; but all the time the municipal authorities had the situation well in hand. It is easy to ascribe causes and motives, but the fact remains that the Chinese have maintained a degree of civil control that compares well with much that has happened in European and American countries over the same period.

On the whole the provincial governors, of to-day are far more peaceable and efficient than those of five or six years ago. The situation in Szechuan is still obscure, but there is to-day no monster of rapacity and incompetence, like Chang Chung Chang, of Shantung. That old gang, headed by Wu Pei Fu, Chang Tso Lin, Sun Chuan Fang, Chang Chung Chang and the "Christian" General, whatever their merits may have been, kept the country in a constant state of civil war. The term war-lords aptly described them, and though their elimination has by no means ushered in an era of perfect peace, the present day heads of the provincial governments are more interested in administration than war. At the time in question Yen Hsi Shan, of Shansi, was the "Model Governor" because he kept his province out of war, and discharged his duties with reasonable faithfulness.

China, like most agricultural countries, has immense powers of recuperation. War, floods, famines and typhoons pass over immense areas, leaving the land prostrate. But, in a short time the damage is made good, and if only a few years of peaceful government can be obtained, progress is apparent. New roads, the rebuilding of cities, installation of power plants are the signs of a reasonably effective control of public affairs. The alliance between General Chen Chai Tong and the Kwangai Clique has enabled wonders to be accomplished in the two Kwang Provinces. Yunnan goes forward under General Lung Yun, and Hunan under Ho Chien. In the North Yen Shi Shan's tradition prevails in Shansi, and Han Fu Chu has restored order in Shantung. Fukien and Kiangsi are much harassed by the "Reds," but the Yangtze provinces, under the control of Nanking are also making headway.

All nations pass through troublous times. After a good ruler will impose a short interlude of peace, to be followed by further turmoil. But in the end the people, sick of disorder, conditions improve, and prosperity returns. The Wars of the Roses in England; the Catholic and Huguenot struggle in France, the Thirty Years War in Germany and the Russian upheaval preceding the time of Peter the Great all bear resemblance to China's Revolution. Mr. T. V. Soong's opinion was that China would be welded and re-shaped on the anvil of Japanese militarism. It would not be the first time in history that foreign interference, had brought results for which local patriots had striven in vain.

We understand that after October 5, next, when the permit granted to the M.B.K. to store coal at Blackhead Point terminates, there will be no more "coal dump" nuisances in the Chatham Road district. A new dump has been started on the Wanchai reclamation.

DELHI THE BEAUTIFUL

New Town Hall
Opened

New Delhi, Aug. 17.

That New Delhi is the most beautiful city in the British Empire was the claim advanced by Mr. F. T. Jones, Official President of the New Delhi Municipality, when requesting the Viceroy to open the Town Hall building this afternoon.

Mr. Jones recalled an event of twenty-two years ago when, on the occasion of the Coronation Durbar, H.M. the King announced that the capital of India would be thenceforward located in Delhi.

That hope, said Mr. Jones, had been brought to realisation. Little less than eighteen months ago Sir John Thompson, Chief Commissioner of Delhi, laid the foundation stone of the Town Hall, and that ceremony marked a definite stage forward in the civic history of New Delhi.

"We see here to-day the completion of our endeavours in giving this, the most beautiful city in the British Empire, a building that will blend with the tenacious evidences that mark the traditions of the past."

The Viceroy, the Earl of Willingdon, before declaring open the building, which is situated on the principal road connecting New Delhi with Old Delhi, expressed his delight in taking the principal part in the interesting ceremony, and shared with the audience their pleasure at the thought that they were now established in a fine and imposing building of an architectural design which harmonized with its surroundings.

The Viceroy recalled the days when New Delhi was in the course of construction, and when Lady Willingdon took an interest in the plans of the city.

"I can only say that when we returned here two and a half years ago to take up our responsible duties—we were both astounded, at the progress we saw, and while it is true at first that the great size of the Viceroy's house rather alarmed us, we can now say, and we can both speak with some knowledge of Government houses in various parts of the Empire, that our home here is not only the most comfortable, but also, with its garden and surroundings, the most beautiful official residence in which we have ever lived."

GROWTH OF NAZI PARTY

3.9 Million Members Now
Registered

Berlin, Sept. 8.

The National Socialist Party has now grown to 3.9 million members according to information vouchsafed in "The Volkischer Beobachter" by the party's treasurer, Herr Schwarz. More than two million people sent in applications to be admitted to membership and Herr Schwarz states that the membership list, which was closed on May 1st, will not be opened before April next year as it will take that long to deal with pending applications.

Owing to the tremendous growth of the party the present headquarters in Munich are proving much too small and work has already begun for the erection of two large buildings covering two blocks on Brienerstrasse in Munich, which will also house all of the party's central executive and administrative departments. NAVAL OFFICERS'
GRIEVANCES

Capt. B. Acworth's
Views

Some prominence has recently been given to various grievances under which naval officers are said to be smarting, writes Captain Bernard Acworth D.S.O., R.N., in the "London Observer." The peg upon which the crop of "moans" was hung was the alleged brusqueness of "the notice to quit" which the Admiralty has recently been compelled, very much against its will, to issue to officers upon whose luckless heads the axe has fallen. As the Board of Admiralty has taken the unusual step of replying to the accusation of discourtesy levelled against it, no further comment on the incident seems necessary beyond an expression of the opinion that the Board's reply will satisfy the great majority of officers that discourtesy is too strong a word for the "brusqueness" of the official wording.

What the bulk of Naval officers will remember gratefully is the untiring efforts of successive Boards of Admiralty to ease the lot of hundreds of officers whose services have become redundant owing to causes for which the Board of Admiralty is not responsible. There must be hundreds of officers of all ranks who are grateful for the consideration that has been extended to them in these post-war years, years of grave hardship, to thousands of other professional men, who have no pensions, no unemployed time on full pay, and no specially created shore appointments to help them on their difficult way. Indeed, it is thought by many that the ultimate good of the Navy, and of redundant officers themselves, would have been better served by a greater hardness of heart on the part of those whose thankless duty it has been to thin the enormously swollen Navy list in the interests of the younger generation. That the personnel of the Navy has been dangerously depleted is true, but against such depletion the Admiralty is powerless apart from so drastic a protest as resignation.

Marriage Allowances.

From the wording of the "axing" letter critics have passed to the alleged scandal of the withholding of marriage allowances from naval officers. Their case is based on the fact that Army officers have them; that naval officers have mess bills at sea, and that naval officers are physically and intellectually such remarkable fellows that it is the State's duty to subsidise their offspring. The case for subsidy may be sound, but it is only fair to point out that it is hotly disputed in the Navy itself, and by many outside the Service. Naval officers are not in the same position as Army officers, many of whom are exiled for years in tropical countries. Furthermore, the regimental sys-

CANTON SILK
INDUSTRY

Rigid Export
Conditions

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, Sept. 20.

Silk merchants are required to submit raw silk for examination by the Kwangtung Raw Silk Testing Bureau in their office in Shameen, the fee being $2 per bale.

Testing of raw silk by this Bureau is made mandatory by a decision of the Kwangtung Provincial Government, which holds the view that only raw silk of proper quality is allowed to be exported. Sometimes shipments of this commodity for abroad are not up to standard, and this gives ground for complaint that Chinese silk is of inferior quality.

Proceeds from the examination fee will be used to order more testing machinery from abroad and to effect other improvements. A branch testing bureau will be established in the city for the convenience of the merchants, and additional staff is being trained for this purpose.

tem is rightly domestic, whereas the sea is not. Many Naval officers deplore the public comparison of their merits as "breeders" with those of their opposite numbers in other walks of life.

The critics of marriage allowances maintain that marriage and families are individual questions, involving personal sacrifices. State help involves interference, and the majority of naval officers, it is believed, desire neither in their personal affairs. The truth is that during the present century the Navy, like all else, has developed the Socialist outlook. The education of naval cadets, prior to sea-going, has become a heavy charge on the State. Taxpayers now have to provide sub-lieutenants with clothes and a cheque for field-glasses. This change in the social outlook of naval officers was fostered, with so many other "reforms," by Lord Fisher. The line of cleavage in opinion as to the merits of marriage allowances is not, as might be thought, horizontal, between that is to say, the middle-aged and the young, but vertical—between those who hold an individual philosophy and those with Socialist leanings.

The question of marriage allowances boils down to this: Are naval officers to be paid for what they do or according to the obligations they voluntarily shouldered? Whether their pay is fair is another question. For my own part I consider that I was fairly, indeed generously, paid for my work while on the active list, and that in these hard times I am lucky indeed to have a pension at my back.

During the screening of the film "Cavalade" at the King's Theatre yesterday afternoon, a Garrison Military Policeman was suddenly taken ill and fainted necessitating his being removed to an outer office of the theatre. Fortunately a member of the Royal Army Medical Corps was also in the audience, this gentleman immediately rendering aid. The policeman was able to return to his quarters at Wellington Barracks later without assistance.

Canton, Sept. 20.—An impressive memorial service was held this morning for the late Lieutenant General Yang Sen Yat, head of the Canton air force, when Dr. Sun Yat Sen was generally acclaimed here ten years ago. General Yang was killed by explosion while on his way to Swatow in connection with the campaign to suppress the remnants of Chen Chung-ming. Besides the officers and men of the air force, high ranking officials of the army and navy took part in the ceremonies at Tin Ho aerodrome. At the same time, formal presentation of an airplane by the city schools to the Canton air force was made. The plane is equipped with two machine-guns and suitable also for bombing purposes. It has a speed of 220 miles per hour.—Central Press.

As soon as the Suffolk had tied up to No. 3 Buoy the following message was transmitted from the officers and ships' companies in port: "Welcome to Hongkong. GIANT ENGINES
FOR THE L.M.S.

The "Princess Royal"
Makes Her Bow

Great Britain's latest express locomotive, the "Princess Royal," of the London, Midland and Scottish Railway Company, made its first main-line running test by drawing a 500-ton train from Euston to Crewe.

The engine, which is destined for the Company's Anglo-Scottish services, marks a considerable advance in locomotive development; it is capable of hauling trains of 500 tons and over at high speeds for great distances, whereas under normal conditions no other type of engine is permitted to draw more than 420 tons on this particular run except with the aid of a second engine.

Actually, the train used for the test weighed nearly 520 tons, and included a "Dynamometer car," a finely equipped "travelling laboratory," in which the most minute and exact analytical data was taken of the "Princess Royal's" performance under actual running conditions.

A Record

Leaving Euston the new engine broke a record within the first few minutes by climbing the Camden Bank without the assistance of another engine pushing the train—the Camden Bank is a gradient of 1 in 70 up—and then entering Primrose Tunnel at a speed of forty miles an hour.

From there until approaching Stafford, a hot axle-box (a slight but by no means uncommon defect) necessitated attention, the engine ran easily to schedule, covering about 120 miles at an average speed of nearly 60 miles an hour, hauling the immense train without any apparent effort. When finally, after further exhaustive tests, the "Princess Royal" and her two companions, who are already in course of construction, enter regular service it is certain that they will add to the already high prestige of the British railways.

No. 3200, as the "Princess Royal" is officially called, is of the 4-6-2 wheel arrangement, as opposed to the 4-4-0 type hitherto used on the London, Midland and Scottish main line services. Her length is 74ft. 4in. her weight 168 tons, while her "tractive effort"—or pulling power—is 40,300 lb., as compared to the 33,150lb. exerted by the "Royal Scot" type.

THE HARBOUR RACES

Ladies' And Open Events
On October 12

The annual harbour races organised by the Victoria Recreation Club, are to be run on slightly different lines this year.

Both the ladies' event and the Open race will be held at the same day October 12 next.

The ladies will be given a quarter of an hour start to allow for the winners to arrive before the first man. The winner of the Open event will then finish before the stragglers in the ladies' event reach the winning post.

Entries will be accepted up to practically the last day.

THREAT OF CIVIL WAR IN CUBA

Rebel Leader Surrounded By Loyalists

Havana, Sept. 20. An epidemic of strikes and a threat of civil war have been whipped up to fever heat in the interior of Cuba which the San Martin Government is endeavouring to allay by decreasing an eight-hour work day, to be effective from October 10.

Meantime, the acuteness of the situation is reflected by an unconfirmed report of the surrounding of the veteran rebel leader, Blas Hernandez, and his five hundred followers who are marching on Havana from Camaguey. It is stated Mazorra, one of the Loyalist leaders commanding six hundred soldiers and students, after exchanging shots hemmed in the rebels, some of whom have already surrendered.—Reuter.

Prof. Grau San Martin Resigns

Havana, Sept. 19. Professor Grau San Martin has tendered his resignation to the Revolutionary Junta.

A large crowd is now parading through the streets of Havana cheering Dr. San Martin, and it is learned that the Junta is not yet decided on whether to accept his resignation.

The general situation is considered to have definitely worsened.

While troops, accompanied by students are searching revolutionaries, one Havana mob which shows strong Communist tendencies has seized several mills, and grave fears are felt for the safety of people in scattered mills as it is feared that the Government forces are not sufficient to protect them.

An Englishman named Hughes is reported to be a prisoner in a mill at Soledad, of which he is the manager.

More American warships have been sent to Antillo, Manzanillo, Cienfuegos and Puerto Padre. The situation is felt in foreign circles to be ominous.—Reuter.

Cuba To Allow Waste Land.

HAVANA, Sept. 14. The new Cuban government was to-day seriously considering the most radical proposal, yet made by a Cabinet member, namely the distribution of the country's uncultivated land among the hungry peasants.

Demand for agricultural organizations, very loosely organized in Cuba, were presented to the Government with hints that unless hunger disappears and the peasants given an opportunity to compete with the large estates, serious political troubles are bound to follow.

At the American Embassy the matter was viewed with concern and even prominent Cubans wondered how it could be put into operation without resulting in bloodshed. They recalled how the Russian army broke down during the world war when word reached the front that the Kerensky government had such a distribution plan.

KING OF IRAQ ENGAGED

To Be Married To Cousin

Baghdad, Sept. 19. The betrothal of King Ghazi to his cousin, Princess Aliyah, daughter of the former King Ali of the Hedjaz, was celebrated in the Palace last night in the presence of members of the Cabinet.

However, no official announcement has hitherto been made and the marriage is not likely to take place for six months. Political reasons are believed to be responsible for the betrothal so soon after King Faisal's death. King Ghazi is only 21 years of age. He was educated at Harrow.—Reuter.

BRITISH G.P. OFFICE

New Facilities For London

London, Sept. 19. GENERAL Post Office engineers have just completed the installation of a new type of telephone switchboard, whereby London subscribers can obtain a trunk call to any part of Great Britain practically as quickly as they can get a local number.

DENUNCIATION OF NAZIS

Vatican Organ Speaks Out

Vatican City, Sept. 19. A CURT denunciation of the methods of the Nazis in Austria is uttered by the official Vatican organ, the Osservatore Romano.

The journal challenges the statement made by Baron von Neurath in the course of his disarmament speech, in which he denied the right of other interested Powers to interfere in the Austro-German dispute and that German activity in Austria was only "natural".

The newspaper declares that "air raids and the acts of violence committed in Austria by political parties give nations who are signatories guaranteeing Austria her independence a definite right to interfere."

Austria's Leaders Honoured

Rome, Sept. 20. His Holiness the Pope has honoured Austria's leaders by conferring the Supreme Order of Christ on President Miklas and the Order of the Golden Spur on Dr. Dollfuss.—Reuter.

PAPAL NUNCIO RECALLED

Rome, Sept. 20. THE Vatican has met the Czech request to recall the Papal Nuncio with a decision not to intervene, giving the opinion that the question is insignificant and should be settled personally between the Nuncio and the Czech Government.—Reuter.

GALE SWEEPS MEXICO

3,000 People Rendered Homeless

Mexico City, Sept. 20. AT least fifty lives were lost in Mexico as the result of a hurricane which swept round the Gulf of Mexico and northward against United States cities, according to reports from Tampico.

Most of the persons killed were washed out from low-lying structures beside the river. Tamaulipas, which runs to the sea at Tampico. Three thousand people are homeless and the military and civil authorities are working superhumanly to alleviate the misery the hurricane has wrought.

NATIONAL ECONOMIC COUNCIL

Nanking, Sept. 20. THE Central Political Council this morning approved the regulations governing the organization and functions of the National Economic Council, which regulations have been referred to the Legislative Yuan for examination.

It is understood that the draft regulations include ten articles. The functions of the Council include, firstly, the examination of proposals and plans concerning national economic construction and development projects; secondly, the examination, as well as the fixing of funds for economic construction and development projects, and, thirdly, direct supervision, as well as execution, of national economic construction and development plans and projects already decided upon.—Reuter.

GENERAL HUANG FU

Departure From Shanghai Uncertain

Shanghai, Sept. 20. ALTHOUGH his presence in North China is urgently required, no date for General Huang Fu's departure has yet been fixed, says the Shun Pao.

The newspaper adds that General Huang failed to reach a complete understanding with the Government concerning financial and diplomatic affairs in North China, and will not return until a settlement is reached.—Reuter.

COTTON CROP DAMAGED

Between Woosung and Paoshan

Shanghai, Sept. 20. SECTIONS of the dykes protecting the sea coast at Woosung collapsed during the typhoon on Monday night, leading to the destruction of 80 per cent. of the cotton crop between Woosung and Paoshan, four miles distant, according to Chinese reports.

The reports add that there was no loss of life, and the dykes are being sunbaggged pending repairs by the Kiangsu Provincial Government.—Reuter.

ANTI-WAR CONFERENCE

Meeting Banned In Shanghai

Shanghai, Sept. 20. LORD Marley, who has been in Shanghai for nearly a month endeavouring to find suitable surroundings for an anti-war conference, has now been informed by the Municipal Council of the International Settlement that the Council cannot permit such a conference to be held under their jurisdiction.

As a similar notice has already been served on Lord Marley by the Chinese and French Concession authorities, it is obvious that the Conference cannot be held in any part of Shanghai.

Lord Marley has been expecting this decision although he has been hoping that the Municipal Council would not give it.—Reuter.

REICHSTAG FIRE TRIAL

Precautions Taken At Leipzig

Leipzig, Sept. 20. Unprecedented precautions have been enforced here to prevent any interruption of the Reichstag fire trial which opens on Thursday.

A wide area round the Court is already in a virtual state of siege. Armed Storm Troops maintain a cordon, through which no unauthorized person is allowed to pass.

Searchlights sweep the streets all night and aeroplanes are forbidden to fly over the city.

Every residence is to be searched. According to present arrangements, 120 witnesses will be called. The proceedings will last a week in Leipzig and will then be shifted for a fortnight to the ruined Reichstag building. The Court will then return to Leipzig for the summing-up and judgment.—Reuter.

BUBONIC PLAGUE IN MANCHUKUO

All Factions Unite To Fight Epidemic

Dairen, Sept. 20. MANCHUKUO is united on a three-line defense against a southward sweep of the bubonic and pneumonic plague at present raging north of Suiping and claiming hundreds of lives.

The first defense is confined to fighting the plague in known infected districts.

Secondly, a main defense towards Chingchiastun, on the Liao River, mid-way between Mukden and Hainkiang.

CANTON AIR FORCE

Manoeuvres Held Yesterday

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, Sept. 20.

Despite lowering skies and sporadic rainfall, the Canton Air Force held its manoeuvres this afternoon. Forty machines took off at Tin Ho aerodrome and roared into space.

The machines were mostly Curtiss-Hawk pursuit planes and several bombers recently imported from the United States. Droning loudly in the air, a squadron of fighting machines flew in mass formation. A solo plane performed some stunts and held the spectators below spell-bound.

Several airplanes from Kwangsi also took part in the aerial demonstration, but as they are mostly training planes flying was not so spectacular.

CHINA'S AIR SERVICES

Nanking, Sept. 20. Mr. Li Ching Chung, manager of the Eurasia Aviation Corporation, arrived in Nanking from Shanghai in a Junker plane this morning.

After refuelling, Mr. Li departed for the north-west, en route to Hami, Tihua and Tachen, to inspect the aerodromes.

Mr. Li Ching Chung told pressmen he may fly to Chinghai from Sinkiang to survey a route for the proposed extension of the north-western air line into Chinghai.—Reuter.

BRITISH AIR-MAIL SERVICE

To Be Extended At End Of Week

London, Sept. 19. Beginning with the service leaving London on September 23, the England-India air mail service will be extended from Calcutta to Rangoon. The mail will be due to reach Rangoon on Sunday evening, eight days after its despatch from London.

From October 2, the home-ward mail will arrive at Rangoon Monday and will be due London on the following Monday—British Wireless.

YELLOW RIVER FLOOD RELIEF SCHEME

Nanking, Sept. 20. It is learned that the $4,000,000 set aside for the Yellow River flood relief scheme has been apportioned as follows:

For immediate relief, $1,500,000; for the payment of refugee labour, $1,500,000 and for medical aid, $1,000,000.—Reuter.

The M.C.L. Gala, which was to have taken place at Repulse Bay yesterday, was postponed until next Wednesday on account of the bad weather.

WIDESPREAD STRIKES IN AMERICA

Roosevelt And His Assistants Worried

Washington, Sept. 20. WIDESPREAD strikes involving 90,000 workers in various industries in New York, Philadelphia and New Jersey are worrying Mr. Roosevelt and his assistants in the recovery drive as it will involve a serious impairment to their purchasing power when it is most needed to speed up business and re-employment.

The uncertain factor is whether Mr. Roosevelt will use inflation to increase purchasing power.

The conflict in public opinion was disclosed on this point by Mr. Henry Harrison, president of the U.S.A. Chambers of Commerce, who gives the opinion that Mr. Roosevelt does not want money inflation, but credit inflation as it is the most sound.

Arrangements have already been made for commencing the construction of thirty-seven warships, including four 10,000 ton cruisers and involving an expenditure of $47,000,000. Fears that this three-year building programme might provoke a naval construction race in other countries was described as unjustified in a broadcast speech by H. L. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary to the Navy.

ROOSEVELT'S NEW ASSISTANT

Mr. R. Walton Appointed

Washington, Sept. 19. President Roosevelt has appointed Mr. R. Walton Moore, former Virginia Congressman, to be Assistant Secretary of State in succession to Professor Moley.—Reuter.

BRITISH TREASURY RETURNS

Still Show Improvement

London, Sept. 19. THE latest Treasury returns show that the ordinary revenue for the current financial year up to September 16, amounted to £257,892,185. At the corresponding date of last year, the amount stood at £253,898,990.

FREE COINAGE OF SILVER

Roosevelt Discusses Scheme

Washington, Sept. 19. PRESIDENT Roosevelt to-day signed the codes of several industries, including that for transportation services, not including the railways.

It was stated by Senator Pittman after a meeting at the White House that the President was much better pleased with the progress of his recovery drive.

He believes, said the Senator, that the signing of the coal code may be regarded as the turning-point.

It is understood that Pittman's meeting with Mr. Franklin Roosevelt had concerned with the proposal of Senator Pittman for the free coinage of silver, by which he suggested the price of silver could be raised by forty-one cents to 129 cents an ounce and $33,000,000 could be placed into circulation.

Pittman admitted that President Roosevelt was very non-committal in regard to the proposal.—Reuter.

ANTI-DUMPING ORDERS IN U.S.

Certain Japanese Goods Affected

Washington, Sept. 20. The Treasury has issued anti-dumping orders against imports of electric light bulbs and rubber-soled shoes from Japan.—Reuter.

ing date of last year, the amount stood at £253,898,990.

The ordinary expenditure to date for the current year totalled £307,385,372 which was more than £32,000,000 less than the total ordinary expenditure at the corresponding date of last year.—British Wireless.

Conviction For Disturbing A Neighbour Upheld

At Supreme Court yesterday,
the Acting Chief Justice, Mr. J. R.
Wood, delivered judgment in the appeal of the Casanova Dancing Institute against a conviction by Mr. H. R. Butters, the Kowloon Magistrate, for causing a noise calculated to disturb a resident neighbour.

The appellant, Mr. Filomeno Eca da Silva, proprietor of the Dancing Institute, who was fined $25 at the Police Court hearing, was represented by Mr. Leo D'Almada, junior, instructed by Mr. Leo D'Almada, senior.

The appeal was heard ex parte in the absence of Mr. Hans J.
Luhning, a merchant, living at 30, Hankow Road, next door to the Casanova Institute.

Mr. Justice Lindell was absent from the Full Court when judgment was delivered, but the Chief Justice informed Counsel that his learned brother had asked him to say that he concurred with the Chief Justice's judgment.

THE JUDGMENT.

Delivering judgment, Mr. Justice
Wood said:—

The appellant was convicted summarily by a Magistrate in respect of noise permitted by him at 30 Hankow Road, Kowloon, on the 8th July, between 8.45 p.m.
and 12 midnight, of an offence committed contrary to section 13
s.1 of the Summary Offences Ordinance (Ordinance No. 40 of 1932). The main contention submitted for him is that the language of the first four lines of this sub-section (upon which portion of the sub-section the conviction is founded) is derived historically through various consolidations and revisions of the law from Ordinance No. 17 of 1844 which came into operation upon the 11th September, 1844.
The Court has taken time to consider the course of legislation.
The original Ordinance as appears from its preamble, though the terms of the section itself are wide, was passed to suppress the nuisance of noise made by private watchmen and for that object alone.

"Outside Its Scope."

It has been submitted here for the Appellant that more recent legislation by the correct rules of legal construction succeeds to this limitation and that the present charge which relates to the music of an orchestra is outside its scope. The Magistrate rejected this submission at the trial, and in my view, rightly rejected it.
The scope of the section was extended by amendment of the law in Ordinance No. 28 of 1901 which took effect upon the 31st October 1901. The preamble of the original Ordinance was thereby repealed. The words of the section thus became general in their operation and were no longer confined to noise made by night watchmen.

Appeal Dismissed.

It has been submitted here for Appellant that evidence in order to support this conviction must be sufficient also by itself to support an application in tort for an injunction. This objection also seems to me to be unsound. I agree that the evidence must be of such a character that it would be material in a claim for an injunction for a nuisance. But that it must be sufficient without other evidence to establish a right to an injunction before a conviction can be recorded is a contention which I do not accept.
The Magistrate has directed himself rightly, upon this point.
The suggestion made that the existence of a remedy by injunction precludes an aggrieved citizen from prosecuting for a nuisance of noise under this section is not worthy of serious consideration.
This appeal must, in my opinion, be dismissed.

SIR JAMES BARRIE'S CANARY

And A Charming Tale Of Princess Margaret

(Special Air-Mail Service)

London, August 30.
Sir James Barrie opened a bazaar on behalf of the town band in his native town of Kirriemuir on Saturday. "I shall tell you,"
he said, "of a compliment, that was paid to me about a week ago by a person whom I will describe as the most gracious lady in the land. The occasion was of her birthday; her third birthday, not very far from here, and she was sitting gazing with entranced delight at one of her birthday presents. It was a little toy table, as far as I could see, with two painted flower-pots on it about the size of a thimble. I said to her, 'Is that really yours?' And she said at once, 'It is yours and mine.' (Applause.) I may be allowed to borrow Princess Margaret's phrase and say of Kirrimuir, 'If there is any grace in me that is worth sharing it is all yours and mine.' (Applause.)
—except perhaps my canary.
(Laughter.) Some of you may remember that when I was here last I told you about the canary that Mr. Robb had presented to me. A canary from this place which has been giving me some trouble. I sometimes think that as Adam must have sometimes said to himself and as many another Adam has said since about many another Eve, since I was tied to this creature I can neither live with her nor without her. (Laughter.) My canary is a male, but he is so inquisitive that he need not be."

In appealing for support for the town band Sir James said: "I would suggest the example of the man near here, a Northumbrian I think he was, who sent his little daughter into the town to buy a sheep's head, and she said to the butcher, 'Father told me to ask you to cut it off as near the tail as you can.' On that principal our bazaar is to be constructed to-day. Every article is to be sold nearer to the tail than ever was heard of before."

Later Sir James said: "What I keep looking at is an empty chair down here. In it there should be sitting, if she were alive, the woman of all women outside my own family whom I most cared for,
who was the friend of my life from my infancy, known to some of you by the name of Belle Lundin."

Two minor traffic accidents occurred yesterday. Lee Yung, living at a hut in Kowloon City, was sent to the Kowloon Hospital after being knocked down by a motor bus in Saikung Road. Knocked down by a tramcar in the Wanchai district, another Chinese, Shain Chiming, was removed to the Government Civil Hospital.

CIVIL SERVICE CRICKET CLUB MEETING

Membership Campaign Is To Be Commenced

A series of new resolutions providing for the admission of non-playing members to the club, at a smaller subscription, were passed at the annual meeting of the Civil Service Cricket Club which took place yesterday, under the Chairmanship of Mr. Justice Wood.

The Chairman in proposing the report and accounts said he wished to place on record Club's sympathy upon the death of Messrs. S. A. Roberts, J. Shand, H. Coombs, F. H. Holdman and Sir Claude Severn. "You will permit me," he said, "to pay a personal tribute of respect to the memory of Sir Claude Severn, who was our President when he left the Colony in 1925. His enthusiasm for the club and his good fellowship to all members leave a gap which many of us will remember."

Turning to the accounts, the Chairman said that they were in a satisfactory state and said that the Club owed thanks to Mr. J. A. Bendall for performing the duties of Honorary Treasurer. The Chairman also welcomed back to the Club, Mr. A. O. Brawn, who had been away on holiday. Mr. Brawn was the Chairman of Committee for the past year.

NEW RESOLUTION!

With regard to the new resolutions, which were adopted by the meeting, the Chairman explained that substantially the proposal was to introduce to the Club a new status of membership. The subscription of $24 prevented some members of the Service from joining and the Committee thought that those not interested in games might still avail themselves of the social amenities of the Club if the subscription was lessened for such persons. "The principal hope of your Committee is that it will make membership of the club become a tradition in the Service and that is one of the things that we want." The Chairman continued by expressing the hope that members of the Club would co-operate in the campaign to "rope in" more members. It was hoped that the new status would enable many to join and together with their families, make use of the Club for social purposes.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The election of officers then followed, but before the actual election, the Chairman said that he would like to propose that the Hon. Mr. R. M. Henderson, Director of Public Works be elected a Vice President. He said that he made the proposal for no other reason than that Mr. Henderson had had a long connection with the Club and had been a loyal supporter. The resolution was carried, with applause.

The election resulted as follows:
Chairman: Mr. A. O. Brawn.
Hon. Secretary: Mr. J. Deakin.
Hon. Treasurer: Mr. J. A. Bendall.
Bar Convener: Mr. S. Eccleshall.
Cricket Representative: Mr. J. F. Wood. They were passed unanimously.

CRICKET NOTES

The Coming Inter-ports

(BY "L. B. W.")

Cricket enthusiasts will welcome the news that there will definitely be a triangular interport contest here this November as news has been received from Malaya that they will be sending up a team by the S.S. Chitral which is due to arrive on November 2. The Shanghai side is expected to arrive in the Colony on November 10, and while the Southerners will stay here until November 18, the Northerners' stay will extend until November 22.

The last time we had a triangular contest here was in 1929 when Hong Kong carried the honours by beating both the visiting teams. The interport programme has not been arranged yet but a meeting of the Committee of the Hong Kong Cricket Club will be held this afternoon when fixtures and other arrangements in general will be discussed.

HONG KONG PREPARING.
So far as Hong Kong is concerned, the "possibles" and "probables" are already hard at practice and quite a useful eleven ought to be ready towards the middle of October. The great thing is to choose the team first and then give them as many practice matches as possible so as to get them in "working order."

I was on the Hong Kong Cricket Club ground on Monday and Tuesday evenings to watch some of the candidates for interport honours at the nets. On Monday, R. H. Griffiths was the earliest arrival, and although it was his first practice in the season, he appeared to be seeing the ball quite well and getting it in the middle of the bat. Up to date, he has been somewhat disappointing but he is definitely a good class bat, and, with practice, I would not be at all surprised to see him get a place in the team.

T. A. Pearce was also seen in action on Monday and he was out again the following afternoon when Harry Owen Hughes was also there. It was good to see "Tam" Pearce practising so early in the season and it is to be hoped that he will find the time to put in enough practice to get back his old form and turn out for the Colony again.

I hear that Dick Hancock, the Grand Old Man of Hong Kong Cricket, is thinking of taking up the game seriously again. Although both he and Pearce must be regarded as veterans, it is general belief that if they only put in enough practice, they would both find a place in the team easily. Apart from being an excellent slip and a punishing bat, Hancock has made a name for himself as the ideal skipper, and his very presence on the field lends an incentive to the men.

The claims of the candidates from the other Clubs will have to be seriously considered. First of all there is "Teddy" Fincher of Kowloon who is almost a certainty. From the same club, players like Frank Goodwin, Ernie Fincher, G. C. Burnett and A. W. Ramsay all deserve a trial. They are old interporters and although I hear that some of the new blood from Kowloon are very promising, I have not seen enough of them to say anything one way or the other about their chances.

Frank Pereira and A. R. Minu of the Indian Recreation Club will have to be seriously considered as Hong Kong's opening bowlers. Pereira played for the Colony (at home) in 1931, and although he did not live up to expectations, it must be said that the wicket on that occasion did anything but help him. Minu's success in Shanghai last year is still the topic of conversation wherever cricketers gather, and as the pair are generally acknowledged to be Hong Kong's most dangerous combination, it is to be hoped that they will figure in the trial games. From this Club also, is another "possible." I refer to A. H. Madar whose innings of 59 in Hong Kong's second innings in that memorable game of May, 1932, turned defeat into victory.

Craigengower have two strong claimants in Ernie Zimmerman and Victor Gittins. They are both young players who are very keen and to my mind are just the type we need—the punishing type of batsmen who are not affected by the occasion, however big.

Apart from Griffiths, I do not see which other player from the C.S.C. will get a trial as most of them are away on Home leave. Lt. Hamilton of the Borderers should get in, but I confess I do not know enough of the other Service players to say much in this direction.

"What the selection committee are going to do, no one knows, but one feels that they may be depended upon to choose the best material at their disposal. Like that of an umpire, their job is no easy one as they are said to "get all the kicks and no thanks."

MacGowan.
Tennis Representative: Mr. W. Ohl.
Bowls Convener: Mr. F. J. Jones.

YESTERDAY'S TRAINING TIMES

Final Tryouts Before Race Meeting On Saturday

Below will be found the training times registered at the course yesterday. For many ponies yesterday's gallops represent the final tryout before the races on Saturday.

Among the ponies which did well were No Fear, De Minimis, Philanderer, Sunup, Vigilance and Gay Butterfly. Their times will be found below.

There was a drizzle in the morning which turned into heavy rain after seven o'clock. This accounts for the fact that although yesterday's gallops were in the nature of a final tryout, the times were on the slow side.

CHINAThe Queensland coal trade may send a representative to the East to investigate the possibility of building up an export trade, and the Australian Government also send an officer to co-operate with the other envoy, and to supply an official report to the Minister for Mines for Australia (Mr. J. Stop-ford). Should representatives be sent from Queensland to China they will probably be asked to ascertain what the Chinese requirements are, and how much is likely to be paid for the coal. If it is found that Queensland production costs can be brought within that figure, presumably a bid for the Eastern market will be made.
